There being no objection, Mr. Lincoln proceeded:

Mr. Presumers and Gentlemen of the Convention. If we could first know where we are, and whither we are isading, we could bester judge what to do, and how to do it. We are now far into the fifth year, since a policy was initiated with the avowed object, and confident promise, of putting an end to slavery aritation. Under the operation of that policy. the shrinking under the reproache hich were heaped upon us, the reluctance of a doubtful to join in its deliberations; the LEATUER - LEAT on listening at the doors of the hall in which It met, afraid to go in, yet reluctant to leave; the wise shaking of heads and the omluous 243 Lake Street. es of the timid; the illy-concealed disgus BEAR THE BELDS that such "fanatics" as Love.or were allowed to speak, and that such "bloods foreigners" as SCHDERDER and HOFFELD were invited at all. Quarrels are the order of the day. The rival causdidates for Covernor in North Carolina, Ellis and McRas, who are stumping the State together, had a fight at Newbern, in which McRae gave Ellis the lie, and Ellis struck him. They were separated by stitutions, and from most of the initional territory by Congressional prohibition. Four days later, commenced the struggle, which ended in repealing that Congressional prohibition. This opened all the mailtonal territory to alarery; and was the first point gained.

But, so far, Congress only, had acted; and an indersement by the people, real or apparent, was indispensable, to save the point all ready gained, and give chance for more.

This necessity had not been overlooked; but had been pravided for, as well as siight be, in a the notable argument of "quanter sovereignty," otherwise called "acred right of self government," which latter phrase, though expressive of the only rightful bests of any government, was so perverted in this attempted use of it as to amount to just this: That if any see man, choose to enclave smaller, no diret man stell be allowed to object. That argument was incorporated into the Nebraska bill itself, in the language which follows: "It being the true intent and meaning of this act not to legislate slavery into any ferritory or State, nor to exclude it therefrom; but to leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States. Then opened the roar of loose declamation in favor of "Squatter Sovereignty," and "Sacred right of self government." "But," said opposition members, "let us amond the bill so as to expressly declare that the people of the territory may exclude slavery." "Not we," said the friends of the measure; and down they voted the amendment.

In the course of the debate, Mr. Douglas called attention to a personal matter. The object of his rising was to notice a 'tolegraphic dispatch giving an account of the proceedings of what was termed an Administration State Convention in Springfield, in which his public conrse was condemned. He proceeded to show that this was not a Convention of the Democracy of Illinois, and said that the persons nominated for State officers are not, and have never been, recognized as essasistant Domocrats. The true Democratic Convention was that held in April last, and instead of being abused, he was indicated by it. What was this Administration Convention I fare was a man in Illinois who holds an office, traveling all over the State, claiming that he was authorized by the Administration to denounce every man as a traiter to the party who does not answere the Lecomoton Constitution.
